Richard McLaren

Increasingly, business operations cross national and legal boundaries. In my 40-year career in commercial litigation, I've expanded my perspective by cultivating relationships in the international commercial arbitration community.

I have memberships in the Court of Arbitration for Sport, the Beijing Arbitration Commission, the London Court of International Arbitration and the Dubai International Arbitration Centre. I also have a seat in the Straus Institute for Dispute Resolution, Council of Distinguished Advisors at Pepperdine University in Malibu, California. International organizations such as the Sports Law Institute at Marquette University, Basketball Arbitral Tribunal in Geneva, Switzerland, and the FIA International Court of Appeal (the governing body of Formula One Racing) have sought my expertise. Thankfully, I like to travel!

A senior law professor at Western University, I also serve academia as a member of the Corporation of Huron University College, director of the Western Business Law Clinic, and as chairman emeritus of the Board of Governors Trinity College School. In 2011, Western Law established the Richard H. McLaren Visiting Professorship in Business Law to recognize my contributions to the school and the field.
