DEFECTIVE BODY CONTROL MODULE IN CERTAIN CHEVROLET, PONTIAC AND SATURN VEHICLES

PLEASE READ THIS NOTICE CAREFULLY. IT MAY AFFECT YOUR LEGAL RIGHTS.

By Order of the Ontario Superior Court of Justice, all persons in Canada (except for Excluded Persons)¹ who on May 14, 2014 owned a model year 2004-2012 Chevrolet Malibu, a model year 2004-2007 Chevrolet Malibu Maxx, a model year 2005-2010 Pontiac G6, or a model year 2007-2010 Saturn Aura vehicle are advised that:

On June 2, 2014, a proposed class action, Piccolo et al v General Motors of Canada Limited et al, Ontario Superior Court of Justice Court File No CV-14-20849 CP (the “Action”), was commenced against General Motors of Canada Limited and General Motors Company (collectively, “General Motors”). The Action concerned the alleged negligent and dangerous design, manufacture and installation of the “Body Control Module” (an electronic control unit responsible for monitoring and controlling various electronic accessories in the vehicle’s body, and which communicated with other onboard computers) in model year 2004-2012 Chevrolet Malibu, model year 2004-2007 Chevrolet Malibu Maxx, model year 2005-2010 Pontiac G6, and model year 2007-2010 Saturn Aura vehicles allegedly designed and manufactured by the Defendants, and alleged that the Defendants failed to warn owners of these vehicles and the public about the allegedly defective Body Control Module. General Motors denies these allegations.

This Notice is to advise you that this Action has been discontinued. The Ontario Superior Court of Justice has approved this discontinuance, and the discontinuance will take effect on ●, 2023. The discontinuance of this Action means that the proposed class action is not going forward or being pursued in Ontario. PLEASE TAKE NOTICE THAT the limitation periods for putative Class Members, which have been suspended since the issuance of the Statement of Claim in this Action, issued June 2, 2014, are no longer suspended and will continue to run as of ●, the date of the Order discontinuing the Action. On the expiry of the applicable limitation period, the right to sue may be extinguished.
