Alexander's Biography

Alexander Verrilli is an experienced commercial litigator with a focus on construction, contracts, property, and shareholder disputes. Some of his wins include a lengthy commercial leasing trial, realtor commission arbitration, and relief from forfeiture application for a commercial landlord. Alexander brings years of experience from a national firm plus a decade of negotiating with global pharmaceutical companies on behalf of a major international research institution.

Delivering excellent service is Alexander's priority. He listens to his clients and educates them through each step of the litigation process. Clients and colleagues appreciate his responsiveness, attention to detail and commitment to their cases. Alex is a creative thinker and enjoys finding unexpected ways to achieve his clients' goals.

Alex is a musician and volleyball player. Outside the office, he spends time with family and writes music with his band. He volunteers in the community and is always looking for ways to give back. Please feel free to reach out.
