

Class Actions

By bringing an action on behalf of many individuals, class actions give a voice to those who otherwise might not have access to justice.

Class Action lawsuits are high stakes litigation. The rights of hundreds and often times thousands of class members depend on the outcome. The battle lines are drawn and experienced counsel with the necessary resources are essential to success. At McKenzie Lake Lawyers LLP, our team of class action counsel have acted in a broad range of class actions in Ontario and in other Provinces. From certification to common issues trials, from settlement negotiations to settlement approvals, our class action team has the experience and reputation to get the job done.

We welcome the opportunity to work cooperatively with co-counsel to advance or defend claims. In our experience, these arrangements are always to the clients' advantage because it brings together an amalgam of talent and resources dedicated to the clients' best interests.
