David's Biography

David Arntfield practices business and real estate law with a focus on secured lending, acquisitions and sales of private companies, corporate reorganizations and other transactional work in the corporate sector.

David has extensive expertise in guiding clients through a full range of complex commercial contracts. He regularly drafts and negotiates shareholder agreements, partnership agreements, service agreements, purchase and sale agreements, as well as loan and security documents on behalf of buyers, sellers, lenders and borrowers.

David is recognized as a leading advisor to dentists, physicians and other healthcare professionals regarding professional corporations, cost-sharing arrangements, equipment leasing as well as buying and selling practices. He also advises numerous family-owned enterprises with respect to succession and exit planning matters.
