Erin's Biography

Since being called to the bar in 2011, Erin has practiced exclusively in the area of family law. With a keen eye for detail and a creative approach to both strategy and problem solving, she works with clients to thoughtfully resolve their matters. Erin and her team appreciate the unique challenges faced by families in the midst of a breakdown and work closely with their clients to sensitively handle all issues that arise.

Erin's expertise spans all areas of family law, from custody and access matters to complex property issues including corporations, complicated tax issues, family trusts and farm operations. Erin is thoughtful in her approach to resolving matters. Where appropriate, she utilizes alternative dispute resolution processes, including mediation and arbitration, private negotiation and litigation.

Prior to attending law school, Erin obtained a Bachelor of Arts in Radio & Television from Ryerson University, where she learned to think on her feet and creatively address problems as they arise.

Erin is a member of the Middlesex Law Association, where she served as Treasurer for many years. She is also a member of The Advocates Society, where she is appointed to a task force
