Michael's Biography

Michael Henley is an experienced business and real estate lawyer who regularly advises on private mergers and acquisitions, corporate restructuring, succession planning, and bank financing work. He also advises on commercial real estate transactions.

Prior to attending law school, Mike worked for a large Canadian bank as a commercial credit lender and for a large pharmaceutical company in sales, marketing, and government relations. He assists clients in many aspects of business law, including incorporations, shareholder agreements, and purchase and sale agreements.

Mike's practice also includes advising clients in the agriculture industry, as he is a Certified Agricultural Farm Advisor with the Canadian Association of Farm Advisors. Mike also advises family-owned farms and enterprises with respect to succession planning matters.

Outside of the office, Mike enjoys spending time with family and friends, travelling, playing recreational hockey, playing squash, or hanging out in his shop working on woodworking projects.
