Micheal's Biography

Micheal Bronsveld's practice focuses primarily on civil and commercial litigation, including contract matters, defamation, property disputes, estate litigation, complex commercial litigation, employment issues and commercial tenancy disputes.

Micheal graduated from the University of Western Ontario's Faculty of Law in 2019. Prior to enrolling in law school, he worked for a large Canadian bank as a financial advisor, assisting individuals and small businesses in devising creative financial solutions. He has also served on the board of directors for a major Federal political party as well volunteering his time to the Ontario Provincial Police.

In serving his clients, Micheal understands that a holistic approach is required, and looks to craft a resourceful, cost effective solution that is unique and tailored to each situation. Micheal understands that effective dispute resolution requires not only a thorough understanding of the law, but also a dynamic and collaborative approach with each and every client.

Outside of the office, Micheal is an active outdoorsman, particularly on the water, and in his spare time he enjoys running, skiing and hiking.
