Nathan's Biography

Nathan Hwee's practice primarily focuses on residential, commercial, and real estate financing transactions. Nathan offers clients his expertise in all areas of residential and commercial real estate including purchase and sale of a home, multi-unit properties, financing, land severances, contract drafting and negotiation, and commercial leasing.

When representing clients, Nathan provides detailed advice unique to each of his clients' specific interests and goals. Nathan always keeps an open dialogue with clients, and ensures his communication is clear and free of complicated legalese.

Nathan completed his law degree at Bond University in Queensland, Australia. Prior to law school, he worked for a multinational corporation as an analyst investigating various security and legal issues for the Corporate Information Security and Legal departments. Nathan has also volunteered as a coach with the Special Olympics, and as a board member for a local children's sport charity. Nathan strives to support local charities and causes wherever possible.

Away from the office, Nathan enjoys spending time with his family and friends. He also enjoys playing golf, baseball, and beach
