Todd's Biography

Todd W. Devitt practices in the area of business law, with a focus on agri-business and succession planning. Todd has worked extensively with companies of all sizes, often in the farming, construction, and medical industries, to assist with buying and selling businesses and commercial real estate, and with succession planning.

Whether assisting with a business or land acquisition, succession plan, or corporate re-organization, Todd recognizes that legal advice is only one piece of the puzzle. Strong connections with cooperative legal, financial, accounting, and insurance advisors are necessary for the success of any business person. This is why Todd always approaches matters with a team mentality – the focus and goal always being to achieve the best possible outcome for every client.

During law school, Todd volunteered at the Elgin-Oxford Legal Clinic in St. Thomas, Ontario. Todd is currently a member of the Canadian Association of Farm Advisors.
