

Wrongful Death

When a family member is lost due to the negligent actions of another, it can be an overwhelming experience.

Our personal injury lawyers at McKenzie Lake Lawyers LLP can help you during this difficult time by providing you with a clear picture of what you may be entitled to as a result of a loved one's death.

A spouse, child, grandchild, sibling, or parent of the deceased may be entitled to financial compensation for the following:

- The loss of care, guidance and companionship of the deceased;
- The loss of the services rendered and to be rendered by the deceased;
- The loss of deceased's income;
- A loss of income as a result of the accident; and
- Expenses incurred as a result of the death.

If you or someone you know has lost a family member due to the negligent acts of another, please contact our offices to schedule your free consultation. The personal injury lawyers here at McKenzie Lake Lawyers LLP can help you through this difficult process.

When you have a legal matter and need to hire a lawyer, you may be able to pay for these services on a contingency basis. That means you only pay legal fees if you receive money because your case wins or you get a negotiated settlement. Please see our Contingency Fee section for answers to frequently asked questions and see each lawyer's individual biography for their maximum contingency fee rates.
